Professor R.P. Hooda
Vice-Chancellor

Open and Distance Education, a step towards democratization of education, provides the learners an opportunity of learning at their doorstep. To meet the increasing needs of aspirants/learners to enable them to study at their pace and place, Kurukshetra University established Directorate of Distance Education in 1976.

Over the years efforts made by the Directorate have gone a long way in drawing knowledge seekers of remote areas and downtrodden sections. Presently the Directorate offers 13 general courses and 20 professional courses for Undergraduate and Postgraduate classes.

The Directorate looks forward to launching some more vocational/technical programmes to meet the demand of specified areas of higher education with a view to serve the society in general and learners in particular.

I convey my best wishes to the students and the faculty and hope that the sincere and concerted efforts succeed in bringing the Directorate at national as well as international repute.
